Dear Josh,

Mac Burnet gave another talk on somatic mutation, clonal selection, etc., at a recent Ciba symposium here in London, and in opening the discussion I was obliged to draw pretty freely on your and Jacques's views. Would you please cast an eye over this page and let me know if you think I have misrepresented you in any significant way? (If not, don't bother to answer.) As this particular Ciba symposium may reach a fairly wide general audience, I would be very sorry if I had attributed to you any opinion which you do not in fact hold.

Thank heavens the conference season is now over and we can get down to some work.

Yours ever,

Peter M.
